Tom Williams Elected National Chair of Canadian Airports Council Advisory Board

ST. JOHN'S, NL – St. John's International Airport Authority Board of Directors Chair, Tom Williams, has been elected National Chair of the Canadian Airports Council (CAC) Council of Chairs. Comprised of airport board chairs across its membership, the Council of Chairs is the voice for Canada's airport community and is responsible for seeking new opportunities for growth and policy changes.

"I'm proud to have the opportunity to represent airports across the country, in particular St. John's International Airport, as we move out of the pandemic," said Mr. Williams. "Now more than ever, it is important to have strong voices representing the aviation sector, and that is what this group intends to do."

Mr. Williams was first appointed to the St. John's International Airport Authority Board of Directors in 2014, and has been serving as Board Chair since 2019. In his professional life, Mr. Williams is a senior partner at O'Dea Earle where he practices personal injury, civil litigation and administrative law.
